PCTI’s HOSA Services Community with Annual Blood Drive

Wayne, NJ – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE –Passaic County Technical Institute’s (PCTI) trumpeted the meaning of community service when HOSA students held their Annual Blood Drive event! Working in conjunction with Community Blood Services (Passaic, NJ), HOSA students collected 87 pints of blood from participants. An outstanding forty-four students registered with “The Match” bone marrow registry – a new record for PCTI! The event ran smoothly thanks to sixty volunteers from the school’s Academy of Medical Arts. In addition, students offered oral hygiene lessons, CPR demonstrations, and blood pressure analysis. They also assisted with “The Match” and distributed first aid kit information.

PCTI Academy of Medical Arts students Ashley Cody (Passaic), Diomara Camacho-Orozco (Passaic), Isabella Kovar (Clifton), Patrycia Zybura (Clifton), and Azariah Johnson (Clifton) register participants at the Annual Blood Drive event.

PCTI student Faisal Allan (Paterson) prepares to make a donation at the Annual Blood Drive event.
